

Leave Indiana's no-soliciting law alone. It is clear by the response to be placed on the list that this is something the public desires. We are bombarded enough with people after our money and don't need to be bothered at home.